I am writing this letter to request your assistance in a personal matter regarding my request for a presidential pardon. The petition for the pardon was submitted in October 2005.

In a brief summary

The reason for this request is that

Senator Talent had been trying to assist me in this manner as I knew him and had assisted him in the past. Senator Talent suggested I contact your office for continued support.

I have enclosed additional documentation regarding the petition for pardon along with some supporting documentation. Should you need any additional information or further explanations please call me at █. This is my cell number. As I am driving and making deliveries should I not answer, please leave a message and I will return the call as soon as possible. I would be more than happy to meet with you personally should you so desire.

I will be █ years old this year and I really need to get the pardon so that I may complete my career and get in a more financially suited situation.

I truly appreciate any assistance you may give in getting the pardon request to President Bush for immediate review and approval.

Respectfully Submitted,

█

Dear Senator Bond:

We recently received your March 26, 2007, letter enclosing correspondence from Mr. [REDACTED] concerning the status of his pending application for a presidential pardon.

Mr. [REDACTED] pardon application is being processed. As you may be aware, the processing time for a pardon application can be lengthy, and we can give no assurance that final action will be taken by the President within a particular time frame. Accordingly, we are unable to advise you when Mr. [REDACTED] may expect a decision on his application. You may be assured that the petition will be carefully considered and that Mr. [REDACTED] will be notified promptly when final action has been taken. We appreciate your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,

Roger C. Adams

Dear Senator Bond:

This is in response to your letter of June 14, 2005, enclosing a letter from your constituent, Lynn H. Taylor, concerning the status of his pardon application. I have to inform you that after careful consideration of Mr. Taylor's clemency request both in this Department and at the White House, the decision was reached that favorable action was not warranted. Consequently, his request for a pardon was denied on June 7, 2005. We have informed Mr. Taylor of the decision in his case.

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,
